1. [REDACTED] Comment. Report includes military export shipments only. It does not cover intrazonal shipments to the Twenty-Fourth Air Army.

2. [REDACTED] Comment. [REDACTED] Only 325 carloads were consigned to army units in East Germany. This amount nearly corresponds with the monthly average observed previously and, compared with the two preceding months, indicates an increase of about 50 percent.

3. [REDACTED] Comment. Previous shipments in August already indicated that large amounts of weapons and equipment (artillery pieces?) were dispatched by the Jessen main depot. [REDACTED]

4. [REDACTED] Comment. Shipments of lubricants and motor oil. [REDACTED]

5. [REDACTED] Comment. Report is incomplete because of technical difficulties. Six of the nine railroad stations mentioned were also listed the preceding month. The report from Boehlen does not count as it includes only export shipments. The few numbers for comparison show that, except for Grosskorbetha, the volume of loadings was about as large as that during the preceding month. A total of 818 shipments were loaded at the 8 railroad stations, except for Boehlen, with only intra-zonal shipments having been counted. Starting from this figure, the total Soviet supply traffic in the Halle railroad district in September is estimated at 1,500 to 1,600 carloads.
